

Transform Bores & Snores into Encores

Interactive Meeting Design, No More Boring Meetings

Are you sick of time-wasting meetings? Boring meetings are an epidemic, but we can fight back. Employees can be engaged and meetings can be valuable. Learning the “science of fun” and incorporating it into dull, painfully drab meetings will benefit everyone. This experiential seminar includes modeling and dissection of the concepts, as well as, question and answers, visual voting, and small group exchanges. Specific customization to the attendees will insure a solid connection. The participants will walk away equipped with tools to implement immediately to improve meetings.

DELIVERABLES

1. Get the attendees in the door using intrigue and inviting, not forcing them.
2. Get people strategically seated.
3. Manipulate the physical environment to encourage interaction.
4. Understand the pros and cons of floor plan layouts.
5. Set up an interactive audience, the ideal audience for the speaker.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Meeting Planners
Managers
Speakers
Sales Representatives
Marketers

BIO

Jolene Jang, the Fun Specialist is on a quest to conquer boring meetings internationally. She is also a motivational speaker, team builder, and fun consultant helping her clients build stronger teams through fun. Her motivation to change lives with her unique perspectives and creativity, has won attention from Oprah, Today Show and other news media.

SESSION REQUIREMENTS

- 2-3 hour program, up to 400 people
- Requirements
 - Stage 8'x16' with a skirt, 12"-24" height
 - Black pipe and drape behind the stage
 - 3 -8 foot black skirted banquet Tables
 - 1 – square 24" black skirted table for the computer
 - Modified Chevron Seating
 - 2 easel flip charts
 - 2 white foam boards 30"x40"
- AV Requirements
 - Projector
 - Projector Screen
 - Sound System
 - Mixer to plug in a quarter inch Samson headset mic
 - 2 cordless mics
 - 2 source inputs (RCA Cables)
- Allow 2 hours for set up time